I am cleaning up my family tree and correcting mistakes and making improvements

Young Thomas Logan married Phoebe Ann Renick in Memphis Feb 28, 1835. On my family tree you can click on William Hamilton Renick Sr and you will find the Logan info.

Their son:

Francis Marion Logan b. 14 Dec 1835 and d. 3 Jan 1899 married Mary Ann Grubb 1840-1907

Francis Marion Logan's son

Thomas Marion Logan b. Nov 1862 d. 10 Oct 1943 married Pollie Skelton Logan 1862-1949

Their son:

Robert Renick Logan b. 30 Sept 1897 d. 5 Jan 1976 married Bess Hodges Logan 1897-1945

Dr. Robert Renick Logan knew his father Thomas who personally knew Young Thomas Logan

I remember now, Dr. Logan left all of the Logan Photos and papers with the Museum of the Ozark in Arkansas

Regards, Keith

Hi Karl, Phoebe Ann Renick was b. 15 Nov 1818 in the Mississippi Territory of Madison Co. Alabama. Her mother was Ann Rodgers/Rogers Renick. Look at the actual old handwriting in the Shelby County Tennessee marriage book. It says Young T. Logan to Phoebe Reynick Feb 28, 1835

Look at the Shelby County TN marriage book, Margaret Logan to William H. Renick....Margaret is the sister to Young T. Logan. Drury Logan security

Look at the 1850 census for Madison Co. Arkansas, Young T. Logan, wife Phebe

Look at the 1860 census for Madison Co. Arkansas, Young T. Logan wife Phoebe

Karl, I will send you an invitation to be a guest on Ancestry where you can look at my family tree. It will cost you nothing. The you just click on the Logans and see the old handwriting records,

The Renicks, Logans, Burney, Rogers/Rodgers, King families were connected and all went to Arkansas.

Hi Karl, Young Thomas Logan married Phoebe Ann Renick in Memphis It is documented. Her name is spelled (Reynick) which is an ancient spelling. The Logan Family from South Carolina left SC and may have gone to KY for a short period of time, but it is also possible they were in the Mississippi Territory of North Alabama before going to TN. The Logan family lived in Fayette County Tennessee and on the 1830 census were in southeast Fayette Co next the the Renick family just across the Hardeman Co. TN live where the Renick family lived. On this 1830 census the Logan SR was already dead. Head of house hold was a Anthony Logan 25 to 29 years of age, his father is dead, his mother is still alive and old. The Logans were in walking distance of the Renicks.

Phoebe Ann Renick daughter of William Hamilton Renick and Ann Rodgers married Y.T. Logan. I am thinking from memory Drury was the security, Most all of William Hamilton Renick's kids went to Madison Co. Arkansas. Read, The History of Northeast Arkansas, Godspeed, Phoebe Ann Renick's half brother William H. Renick Jr married Margaret Logan, sister of Y.T, Logan. It is documented and is the marriage records of Memphis. The security was Drury Logan. The other older Logan girl was Isabell Logan who married a Ford and also went to Arkansas.

The Logan Papers were donated to a small museum in Arkansas by Dr. Robert Rodgers Renick. He was born (I forget) 1897 and died 1976. He was professor of international Economics and the University of Arkansas. He was a direct descendant of Y.T, Logan and Phoebe Ann Renick. Dr. Robert Rodgers (Rogers) Renick was a direct descendant of Y. T. Logan. He knew his granddaddy who knew Y. T. Logan. I have a 1973 genealogy and the genealogist in 1973 talked to Dr. Logan several times. I believe people who are a direct bloodline. The Photos on line on the internet of Y.T.Logan comes from Dr Robert Rodgers Renicks collection. I have exchanged several email with this Library about 15 years ago, I never had the chance to go there. Maybe someday. My father knew his granddaddy who was alive during the civil war who was raised by his granddaddy James Titus Renick 1804-1877. I tend to believe people who knew and had a memory of those old people of the past. Dr. Logan knew his ancestors, why would he not believe is kin who personally knew Y. T. Logan?

There is also a Logan Family Journal in a Library in Houston Texas that I believe belonged to Margaret Logan, she mentions the brothers and Isbella who married a Ford. I am not looking at my notes right now, I am doing this from memory. She also mentions a Anthony Logan but doesn't clarify who he was. I have not see the journal first hand but hope to go to Houston someday. I forget which Library the journal is in but it shouldn't be hard to find.

In York Co. SC there was a Anthony Logan and Thomas Logan who I believe both were in the Rev War. and I believe they were brothers. The Logans, Rodgers/Rogers, Burney and King families were all in Madison Co. Arkansas. Yes, I have dates if you need them but they are also on line. Are you on Ancestry, or Familysearch.org????? If you like, I will find the Library that Dr. Renick's papers are in and you can go there and see the Photos of Young Thomas Logan. These are in the papers of Dr. Robert Rogers Renick Logan. A direct descendant of Young Thomas Logan and Phoebe Ann Renick.

Karl, the Logans it appears came from Goochland, Va and a Thomas and Anthony Logan ended up in York Co.SC and Mecklenburg Co. NC. It is the same place, Parts of Anson Co. NC and York Co SC were used to form Mecklenburg Co, NC. They all touch each other.

As I said before, I believe Thomas and Anthony were brothers. I made a mistake, I said Margaret Logan Renick had the journal that was in a Houston Library. It was not Margaret, it was Isabella Logan.

You can just google: Isabella Logan.

Isabella Logan was b. abt 1797 in SC and married Richard Ford. It is reported she listed her siblings as follows:

Young Thomas Logan...Possibly m. Elizabeth? Owens? (This is incorrect)

Margaret Logan

John Logan

Robert Drury Logan

Anthony Logan who was wound during the American Revolution 1776 was also listed in the journal along with the above siblings, relationship unknown. It is unclear the relationship of Anthony Logan. I believe brother and it could also be father. (have heard reports of the journal) haven't seen it.

The 1870 Census, Isabella Logan Ford was 73 yrs b. in SC and lived with her son, Iven Ford and family on Sugar Creek Benton Co. Arkansas. Also not far away in Benton Co. Arkansas was the family of Miles Bond who's wife was Rebecca Renick who's mother was Margaret Logan Renick, sister to Isabella Logan Ford. So Rebecca Renick Bond lived near her mother's sister.

Also living in the household of Miles Bond and Rebecca Renick Bond were 2 children of William H. Renick Jr and Margaret Logan. William H. Renick Jr died in Cooke Co. Texas in 1868 and his 2 youngest children Andrew Jackson Renick and Laura F. Renick were sent to live with their sister Recheca Renick Bond who lived near their aunt Isabella Logan Ford.

1830 Fayette County Tennessee Census for ANTHONY LOGAN

1 male under 5

2 males 15-19.....Correct ages of Y.T. Logan and Drury Logan

1 male 20-29...Anthony

2 females under 5

1 female 10-14

1 female 15-19.....correct age of Margaret Logan

1 female 50-59 (1773-1780) Mother of Anthony.

I searched the records, this is the ONLY Logan family in Fayette and Hardeman Co. TN. in 1830.

It is obvious all of the children under 5 are the children of Anthony Logan b. 1801-1810.

Within walking distance of the Logan family in the next county of Hardeman Co. TN. (all you have to do is look at the civil districts they each lived within each county).

in the Household of William Hamiton Renick Sr.

William H, Renick who married Margaret Logan in Memphis, Drury Logan was security. William & Margaret Logan named a child Robert Drury Logan.

Phoebe Ann Renick who married Young T.. Logan in Memphis.

I have no proof that Isabella Logan claimed her father was Thomas Logan and I have my doubts. This is for sure. The father of Young Thomas Logan who married Phoebe Ann Renick in Memphis was already dead before 1830.

I am looking for information on the following:

Davidson County Tennessee Wills & Inventories Vol Two 1816-1830

Page 487, Oct 6, 1825, Inventory of the estate of Thomas Logan, deceased, several items listed, Margaret Logan, Executor, July term 1825

Page 497, Dec 6, 1825, Account of the Estate of Thomas Logan, deceased, sold on August 13, 1825, Purchasers: Joseph Pinkerton, John Shute, Robert Clark, Aairam Blackwood, William Brown, George Clark, William Phillips, Joel Swinney, Hugh LOGAN, Margaret LOGAN, Martha LOGAN and Thomas LOGAN.

I don't know who these Logans are and if they have any connections to the above Anthony Logan.

Hi Karl, hope you received the invite to be a guest on Ancestry and see my family tree. Drury Logan was security? I don't know what the definition was in 1835, if you go to my family tree and click on William Hamilton Renick 1775-1848 and then go down and click on his son William Hamilton Renick Jr. you will see his wife Margaret Logan, click on Margaret Logan and you can click on the marriage book. Under Drury Logan is say security. He was the brother of Margaret Logan. I believe security was simply a witness that guarantees the young girls getting married is allowed to get married, its O.K. with her family. I believe many of these Logan family might be descendants of pre-rev war William Anthony Logan of Goochland Va. Keith

What do you mean "Drury Logan was security"? I see that Joseph Pinkerton purchased assets. Pinkerton was a Detective and security agency in the 1800's.

I see Drury in Logan lines but not directly in our line. It doesn't mean they aren't connected. It is possible Thomas Logan b.1789 had brothers or Uncles that have Drury as a maternal family name. I can't find data before Thomas or data on siblings. I continue to follow lines like yours but always find dead ends in the 1700's.

Thanks Karl, Isabella Logan married Richard Ford and ended up in Benton County, Arkansas. The Renicks who are the children of William Renick Jr and Margaret Logan also ended up next to Isabella Logan. Children of Margaret Logan Renick were Rebecca Renick who married Miles Bond and Andrew Jackson Renick and Laura F. Renick all live near their aunt Isabella Logan who married Richard Ford.

Sometimes it is easy to tell who lived next to who by the tax records of the county and often they will state the district of the county. So if you get a Renick and Logan in the same county and both in the same district of that county you know it is not just by chance. The other way is to look at the Section, Township and Range of the land they owned and compare the families. William Jasper Renick's land in Mississippi was connected to Robert Nutt's land. Understandable, William married Robert Nutt's daughter. Sometimes it pays to see who lives next to who.

The old census records back then have huge mistakes, they are not 100% accurate. The 1850 census records for Margaret Logan says she was born in KY. She died before the 1860 census so we can't compare the 2 census. But sometimes you can follow one person and each census claims they were born in a different state. It is interesting to me if she was born in Kentucky.

Thomas Logan and Anthony Logan were in the Carolinas in the 1790 and 1800 according to the census. It is very possible Logans that they were in the Rev War received Land Bounty Grants in Kentucky.

From Virginia into the Carolinas then to Kentucky and back down into Tennessee is not that unusual over a decade or two. I will look into my notes on Logans in the Rev War. One of my relatives James Renick was at King's Mountain in 1780. There was a Joseph Logan, William Logan and James Logan who also fought there.

Thomas might have had siblings with these names which would connect our Logan families. All speculation. No hard data.

Karl, google: www.southerncampaign.org

On the right hand side you will see Pension Records. Click on Pension Records and look at all of the Logans. Or any family name associated with your Logans.

I found some of my family history in other people's pension records. One guy, I forget his family name told the court everywhere is fought and was stationed, he said he went to the Renick Fort in Greenbrier WVA. I found out it was built by my 5th great granddaddy and his brother William Renick about 1768.....

I found another Tid bit from a guy with the family name of Henry. His father was Col or Captain Andrew Henry of Augusta Co. VA and under Andrew Henry was Capt or Lt. (I forget the rank) of Ebenezer Titus. This was Dunmore's War 1774. Andrew Henry's son served under my 6th Great granddaddy Ebenezer Titus 1728-1807 who was a signer of the Cumberland Compact and one of the founders of Nashville.
